Supporting Disability Inclusion in Our Schools 💙

At Kingsley Park Primary School, we believe every student deserves to feel included, supported and empowered to reach their full potential.
Disability Inclusion funding plays an important role in helping schools provide the adjustments, resources and support that students with additional needs require to access learning and participate fully in school life.
We recognise that recent discussions surrounding Disability Inclusion funding are important to many of our families and the wider school community.
We were, like all Victorian schools, very happy to receive notice on Tuesday evening that there will now be no change in eligibility for current students already in receipt of individualised disability funding for the 2027 school year.
We are still waiting for further details on how this impacts the funding of students moving forward. We will keep families updated.

GREAT JOB!

Evie Makes a Splash in Her First Pro-Amateur Swim Meet

Evie recently competed in her first Pro-Amateur FUNKY Competition Swim Meet on 10 October at MSAC (Albert Park Olympic Pool), taking on three events: the 50m Freestyle, 50m Butterfly and 50m Backstroke.

Evie had an outstanding meet, finishing 1st in her age group (mixed) in the 50m Freestyle with an incredible time of 40.03 seconds! This was a fantastic achievement, smashing her previous regional time of 48 seconds from April.

She continued to impress in the pool, clocking 54 seconds in the 50m Butterfly and finishing 7th in the 50m Backstroke with a time of 59 seconds. A wonderful result and a testament to her dedication and hard work!

Evie is already looking forward to her next competition, where she'll be swimming alongside Mina (Grade 4) at Caulfield Grammar on Friday 13 November.

Alongside her busy swimming schedule, training three times a week at PARC with Peninsula Flyers, Evie is also making a difference outside the pool. This November, she'll be swimming an incredible 9km to raise money for the Cancer Council's Swim for Breast Cancer, taking on the challenge alongside her mum.

Evie's commitment to both her sport and an important cause is something to be incredibly proud of. If you'd like to support Evie and her mum in their fundraising efforts to help find a cure for cancer, please visit her fundraising page here:
It is essential for life, health, food security, and economic growth. Yet today, millions of people around the world still face water scarcity, pollution, and lack of access to safe drinking water.

Evie's commitment to both her sport and an important cause is something to be incredibly proud of. If you'd like to support Evie and her mum in their fundraising efforts to help find a cure for cancer, please visit her fundraising page here:

FIDGETS
in the Classroom
Learning Tools

Learning tools that support attention, concentration and self-regulation

Fidgets in the Classroom – Learning Tools

At Kingsley Park Primary School, we recognise that all students learn differently, and some students benefit from additional tools and strategies to help them stay focused, regulated and engaged in their learning.

One of these supports may be the use of a fidget tool.

What is a fidget tool?
Fidgets are small sensory tools that can support some students with attention, concentration and self-regulation. When used appropriately, they can help students manage their sensory needs while remaining engaged in classroom learning. It's important to remember that fidgets are learning tools

When are fidgets used?
At Kingsley Park, fidgets may be introduced as part of a student's individual learning adjustments, often following recommendations from an Occupational Therapist (OT), psychologist or other relevant specialist.
When recommended by a specialist, the use of a fidget may also be documented in a student's Individual Education Plan (IEP), outlining its purpose and how it will support the student's learning and regulation needs.

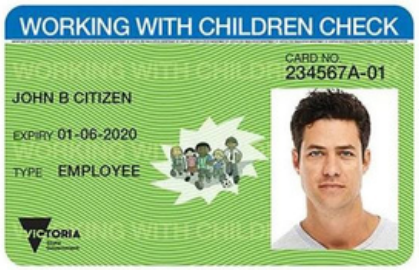

Fidgets are used for a specific purpose, such as:

- Supporting attention and concentration during learning tasks.
- Assisting students with emotional and sensory regulation.
- Helping students remain engaged during explicit teaching and instruction.
- Providing a quiet, appropriate way to meet individual sensory needs.

Why can't everyone bring a fidget to school?
While fidgets can be helpful for some students, they can also become a distraction when used as toys rather than learning supports.
For this reason, students should not bring fidgets from home unless this has been discussed and agreed upon with their classroom teacher or the Wellbeing Team.
When fidgets are recommended, staff will work with students to establish clear expectations around their use, ensuring they support learning rather than interrupt it.

Working Together
We appreciate families supporting us in reinforcing the difference between a fidget tool and a toy. Our aim is to ensure that students who benefit from these tools can access them appropriately, while maintaining calm, focused and productive learning environments for everyone.

Thank you for your understanding and ongoing support!

IMPORTANT CHANGES TO WORKING WITH CHILDREN CLEARANCES - EFFECTIVE 19TH OCTOBER 2026

Victoria has strengthened its Working with Children Check requirements to provide additional safeguards for children.
From 19 October 2026, schools have additional responsibilities to verify and register people they engage in child-related work, including relevant volunteers.

There are two main changes:
WWC Connect: Schools must use a new online government system to register workers and volunteers they engage in child-related work and keep their details up to date.

Mandatory child safety training:
Anyone applying for or renewing a Working with Children Clearance must complete an online child safety training module (approximately 45 minutes).

People with a current clearance do not need to complete the training until renewal, unless changing from a volunteer to an employee clearance.

One important point for parents:
This does not mean every parent who comes onto school grounds or helps at a school event automatically needs a new Working with Children Check.

Working with Children cards that are still current are accepted.

Families will be sent home an authority to collect your information and upload the details of your Working with Children clearance to attach you to our school. This authority will come home with your eldest child and by completing, signing and returning, you will help keep our school fully compliant with the new requirements, be able to assist in the school where you have been and most importantly be part of a state register that keeps our children safe.

Further information of this updated policy can be found at :

Frequently asked questions:

I already have a WWCC. Do I need a new one? No. Your existing clearance remains valid, subject to its expiry and status.

Do I need to complete the new training now? Only if applying for a new clearance, renewing or changing from volunteer to employee clearance.

I help at school occasionally. Does this affect me? It depends on the activity and whether an exemption applies.

I help in the classroom or on excursions.
These roles generally require a current WWCC, unless an exemption applies.

I help at a working bee or fundraising stall.
These activities are generally classified differently from child-related work, but school screening requirements may still apply.

What do I need to do if I have a current Working with Children card ?

Please look out for the new authority that will come home with your child this week, or collect one from the school.

Please complete, sign and return to the school at your earliest convenience.

Parents who come into the school from now, will be asked to complete an authority if one has not allready been done.

Remember, this new requirement if an important element in keeping our children safe.

ANNOUNCING

Podcast Update

Kingsley Park would like to share news on their Podcast Project!

Some very exciting updates from both Our Podcasters in Grade 6 and our classes taking part in the Better Us program this year.
In association with Anglicare, 6 grade six students: Kyden, Jude, Mayeni, Charlee, Violet and Gemma have produced professionally edited and produced Podcasts as part of the "Those 6 Tweens Podcast series. Kingsley Park are part of season 2 with Season one being released at the end of 2025 and already been listened to from 17 different countries!
Our Kingsley Students have considered topics to feature on the Podcast that are relevant to the lives of our students and the big reveal will take play at the whole school assembly on Friday 20th November with the audio trailer being played to our community and then being released on Spotify.
Anglicare are also launching the Podcast series with a video trailer - that was filmed onsite last week and a launch party on Friday December 4th at Kingsley Park for our older students to attend. More exciting details to follow! Well done to our Podcasting superstars - These Podcasts are so impressive and we are very proud of your work already :)
Thanks to Anglicare for their great work and also Ms Tamille and Sarah Brand for their work in assisting and supporting our students.

The BetterUs PROJECT

As well as our Podcasters being videoed to promote their series - another film crew were at Kingsley last week filming some of our Grade 5 students from S3 who have been part of a trial this year in using The Better Us Digital Wellbeing check in program.

The Better Us program combines engagement, streaks, wellbeing, and kindness acts into a single, powerful program. We are excited to roll it out to all 3-6 grades next year.

Sadie J

My favourite thing is that you can tell your teacher how you feel without having to go up to her physically and on the better us we can write kind messages to one another with kind message and we can write what is something kind we did today with logging a action

Miakoda M

I love the kindness ninjas because you feel proud and the person that receives the kindness ninja can feel proud of themselves

Liam W

"My absolute favourite thing about it is that you can earn these things called 'sparks' and you can get sparks by logging an action which means you have to open your device in the morning/evening you enter google classroom and scroll down a bit, you find it and click on it tell the program how you feel today, then you click something in the bottom right corner that says Log Action you click on it and the very best part about it is that instead of telling your teacher/helper teacher you type it in the logging action and your teacher can see it. Plus you can give people a kindness ninja, so lets say Isla did something nice I could give her a kindness ninja, and that's all that I can say for now, until then...goodbye.

Abigail H

My favourite thing is that everyone all way feels included when people get kindness ninjas and you can spred the kindness as well, but you do not have to have your name shown. You can also do a check in so then if you do not feel comfortable telling the teacher up front then your teacher can see what you have said on your check in and come and talk to you.

Dusty G

My favourite thing to do on the Better Us project is sending and receiving kindness ninjas and logging an action when I've done something kind or helpful. We can log actions, buy things in the spark store, send kindness ninjas, receive badges, and earn sparks.

Adelaide M

My favourite thing about the better us project is you can say how you feel without having to actually speak to someone. On the better us you can check in, get sparks and give kindness ninjas

Sonny M

My favourite thing about the better us project is that you can express your emotions with out speaking about them, and that you can give kindness ninjas to others with out telling them in person.

DISCUSSION WRITING

STUDENTS HAVE STARTED LEARNING HOW TO WRITE BALANCED ARGUMENTS. HERE ARE SOME OF OUR INTRODUCTIONS

S1

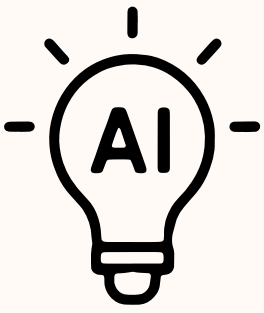

Should there be AI?

AI is changing the world and it is becoming one of the most controversial topics. Some people think it could bring us closer to utopia, whilst some people think it could bring the end to humanity.

One of the main reasons why people think AI is helpful is that it can find and combine lots of data into a short-fact filled paragraph. The response AI gives you explains everything about the topic you asked, in a very small amount of time. Getting rid of this powerful machine would be an extremely bad idea, collapsing the economy and severely affecting society.

Should kids be on the internet?

Everyday we use the internet, whether we are looking at a friend's vacation post, watching a YouTube video while you eat or simply scrolling. The internet is a big part of our lives and is really addictive, especially for younger people. Which leaves a question. Should kids be on the internet? Now this a controversial question since a lot of people have many mixed opinions on this topic. A lot of people think the internet is hurting children's mental health by exposing them to topics that arent appropriate while others believe that the internet is helping kids find a safe space where they belong. And this is a good question since 95% of teenagers and 40% of tweens are on the internet almost constantly. So, should kids be on the internet?
